Reflections on the coming of spring, from Revd Elizabeth Burren

I write this on a cold grey day in February, and it seems impossible to imagine that when you read it, in early March, we will be seeing daffodils, green leaves on the trees, and sunshine. Of course, this is England, so it might still be raining! I guess the point is that even though we wait, some years longer than others, springtime always comes with its new life and new possibilities.

Life can be like this, can't it? Harder seasons come and go, and sometimes stay around longer than we thought they would. Sometimes it may seem as if winter will never end. But somehow, eventually, the light breaks through.

We are in the season of Lent, and this is when we in the church remember a hard time that Jesus went through. Forty days of heat, and thirst, and testing in the wilderness. The bible tells us that, because Jesus suffered and was tested himself, he is able to help us in our times of trial.

Sometimes we fast during Lent, which historically has been a way for believers to share, in a very small way, in the sufferings Jesus went through. Fasting isn't always about food, it could be fasting from social media, alcohol, watching too much telly, anything really but it needs to be something we like - if it's not a sacrifice, it doesn't count! Doing this can draw us closer to the one who gave up everything for us.

Of course, it's not just Christians who give something up during Lent. It's a tradition in this country and lots of us do it, for all sorts of reasons; to be healthier, save a bit of money, or just to test ourselves, and see if we can stick it out. And it's not just giving things up either, the sacrifice can be a bit of time to start doing something new. This year, I'm planning to sacrifice a bit of sofa time each day to go for a walk, appreciate the goodness of creation, and get a bit healthier in body, mind and spirit.

So what are you doing, in this season of the year? If you have begun a Lenten fast of any kind, may you be blessed by it. If you'd like to, it's not too late; you can begin today. If you are just enjoying the brighter days and the new growth in the garden, then that's a blessing in itself. And if you are in your own hard time, and it seems that winter will never end, know that you are loved, and spring is just around the corner.

St John's Church, Luton - Plough Sunday Service

I would like to thank all the farming community who attended and took part in the Service, it was very moving. Great thanks go to Revd. Jane Frost for all her hard work in producing the Service Sheets. I also thank Nick our Organist for his unfailing support. Above all I would like to thank all the Congregation for attending and giving us support.

Kath Vooght .

Pop-Up-Café - A new experience

If you're looking for fine dining, haute or nouvelle cuisine, the Pop-Up-Café is not for you. But, if you can, do as I did, drop down to the Pop-Up-Café for a bowl of good home made soup or, if you prefer something different, you will find tea, coffee and a slice of delicious cake available.

You will also find that this, new to our village, enterprise offers more than a snack. It also provides a warm and welcoming atmosphere that is conducive to a chat with a neighbour, friend or new acquaintance. All credit is due to those open-hearted members of our community involved in the planning and running of the café and we owe them our thanks.

So give it a whirl. Drop down and have a chat. If my first visit was anything to go by, you won't be disappointed.

A trial to salt some of Exeter's busiest cycle routes will also be extended to continue to provide additional support for communities as part of the Council's winter self – help scheme. The 325 volunteer snow wardens across the county treat their priority routes during prolonged spells of severe weather.

District Councillor Beryl Austen read by the Clerk

The Teignbridge Lottery has attracted the sale of 1000 tickets and more than 50 good causes have signed up to benefit from the new fund-raising opportunity. The first draw will be on Dec.3rd. For every ticket sold 50p will go to good causes with 10p. to local projects.

A scheme to provide housing for social rent, with the special criteria that anyone with a local connection can register for tenancy, has been launched for Widecombe. It is proposed that eight properties will be built by 2023 for local people. This is a project which many small places would welcome as one of the problems of housing is that young people have to leave their birthplace to be housed elsewhere.

Teignbridge is having to consider increasing drivers pay levels to current market rates to cover the loss of driver vacancies. There is a national shortage due to loss of European workers, lack of drivers tests and the ageing workforce.

Because of changes in planning regulations councillors are being offered training to update them on latest regulations.

PC Clarke Orchard, Neighbourhood Beat Manager & PCSO Saul Bunce

No monthly crime report figures available due to updating Police systems. The monthly newsletter is available to view on the parish council website.

PARISH MATTERS

105.1 It was proposed by Cllr D Fox, seconded by Cllr A Carter-Woodwork and agreed by all to investigate purchasing and installing directional road signs for The Village Hall, The Church and The Millennium Green; Cllr R Peart offered a grant.

105.2 It was decided not to apply for the Connecting You Community grant fund.

105.3 To receive any updates on roadworks, highways and parking issues: DCC are unlikely to be carrying out pothole and road repairs for up to the next three years, due to lack of money.

The request for double yellow lines needs to go to HATOC.

105.4 Sustainable Ideford update – read by the Clerk

Sustainable Ideford have not spent much of their budget for this year, but after colleagues visited a Skills Share event in Dawlish recently (partly run by Devon Climate Action Group) – met recently to consider that event and some larger/longer term schemes and initiatives for our community in the coming year.

105.5 To receive an update from the Wildlife Wardens:

Fever tree planting is scheduled for Saturday 17th December.

Devon Biodiversity Record Centre have asked Wildlife Wardens to carry out a survey to assess the state of Devon's hedges.

Gritting depots across the county are fully stocked with around 24,000 tonnes of salt and Devon County Council's upgrade of its winter fleet has continued, with eight of its 37 frontline gritters replaced with newer models this year, reducing revenue spend on maintaining outdated vehicles. This winter, Devon's fleet of gritters will be running on sustainably sourced Hydrotreated Vegetable Oil [HVO], which is a waste product from the food industry. The fuel produces 90% less CO2 than a regular diesel which will help meet Devon County Council's net zero targets by 2030.

Charity cycle, cuppa and cake for Danielle -18th March.

Dear Ideford,

Thank you for the cards, the flowers, your kind words, your memories, the hugs, the meals and the love you gave us in our hour of need after losing our beautiful daughter Danielle. We felt truly loved and looked after x.

We moved to Ideford on 6th August 1993 the day Danielle was due. Luckily for us she waited a few days and arrived on 10th August.

Danielle grew up in Ideford and went to the local schools, then followed her dream of university to Cardiff where she bought a property, a cat and made her life.

Sadly Danielle lost her battle with mental health just after turning 29 on 22nd August last year.

In Danielle's memory and to raise funds for The Samaritans, Steve, family and friends will be taking part in a charity cycle ride. This will be a fun day out for anyone who would like to join in and cycle any distance, up to 50 miles, and you can contact Steve on 07970984729.

If cycling isn't your thing, then join us at the village hall and the finish line from 12 noon for a cuppa and cake. Danielle was a fantastic baker and loved cake.

All we ask is that you donate to these amazing volunteers at The Samaritans.

We look forward to seeing you all on 18th March.

Cycle, eat cake and donate.

Thank you

Sustainable Ideford - 'E For Energy Matters'

Welcome to the latest advice and information from Sustainable Ideford. We are continuing to provide tips and links to information we hope members of our community will find useful, so please do feed back to us with your thoughts on recent articles and future activities you think would be useful. For now you can email Jim Gardner at Jimiggglobal@yahoo.com. In the near future we will start running open community meetings and events where everyone will be welcome – we will publish details in due course.

For this edition of the News, we are focusing on energy saving. The cost of energy in the home these past few months has become a real issue for all of us – spiralling costs, added inflationary pressure on spending in general and long periods of cold weather. And there may be more price hikes this spring. No doubt many of us are already exploring or putting in place simple actions to limit our energy use. There is plenty of advice out there to help. Some actions are easy and cost nothing.

For example, did you know:

- Turning your combi boiler flow temperature down to 60°C could save you up to £100 a year
- Turning down radiators in rooms you aren't using or use less could save you up to £70 a year
- Turning appliances off at the socket could save you up to £70 a year
- Washing clothes at a lower temperature could save you up to £40 a year
- Using your tumble dryer less could save you £70 a year
- Closing all your curtains and blinds at night
- Only fill the kettle with the water you need – boiling more than you need could lose you up to £25 a year or more

These are just some of the simple things we can do at home to manage how much energy we use on a daily basis.

Central government provided most of the above tips via:

New grants for hedges

As part of my work as a Wildlife Warden, I have been surveying hedges in the Parish. Hedges are fantastic for wildlife, providing food and shelter, nesting sites for birds and small mammals and corridors by which bats navigate.

We have some substantial hedges in Ideford, most of them with the traditional Devon bank. Also, many of us have shorter hedges in our gardens. How they are managed makes a big difference to their wildlife value: did you know that most hedging trees flower on second-year wood, so if they are cut every year, they never produce the flowers and berries that birds and pollinators need? It's encouraging to see that some hedges here are now being cut every two years, or one side one year and the other the next.

Another problem is that, if a hedge is cut at the same height each year, it develops hard knuckles on top, reducing its ability to make new shoots. Gaps develop and in the long run the hedge will die. The ideal is to let the hedge grow a little taller each year and, after 10-15 years, to lay or coppice it. Easy enough for a garden hedge, but if you have many hundreds of metres to look after, this is a lot of extra work.

However, help is at hand. The Government's recent Environmental Land Management update includes grants of:

- £13.52 per metre for hedge-laying
- £5.33 per metre for coppicing
- £17.22 per metre for filling gaps with new trees.

You don't have to be a farmer to qualify, though your hedge needs to be at least 20 metres long, with at least 80% native shrubs. Farmers are eligible whether or not they are in a Stewardship Agreement.

There is also support for planting new hedges, at £22.97 per metre. But the hedge would have to link to an existing hedgerow or be on the site of a historical one. Similarly, the Woodland Trust will pay 75% of the cost of a new hedge, but only where it connects to woodland, directly or via an existing hedge.

Old Photos of the village & surrounding areas - HELP

Do you have any old photographs of our village & surrounding areas?

If so, we would like to borrow them and take copies, please - happy to collect.

Please email: dominic.morby@gmail.com

It would be fabulous to have a selection for the March Pop-up cafe in our village hall, so we can chat about the past days & how things have changed over the years. If you are attending the cafe, maybe bring some pictures along as well.
